

Helping Hands
inspiring change together

With Top Bananas

Dear Teacher

I have been on the Top Banana website and I like how it helps children in Uganda. It is the Junior arm of the charity called HELPING HANDS. Can you please have a look at it too? I would like our class or school to help get some mosquito nets for the children there. This will cut the number of children getting ill by half. You can telephone their office or email for more information and they will even send a speaker.
